ALMANAC AND DIARY.

SHORT METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS FOR THE WEEK.

Monday, 28.—Carpet Stores resolve to close at 5 o'clock, to allow their clerks time for a base ball entertainment in the field, before supper, and to prevent base ball parties after supper.

Tuesday, 29.—Freedmen's Bureau repaired and furnished by the Cabinet Makers in Congress. The Episcopal Convention in Philadelphia attempted to vary over the differences in the Church, North and South, with some Episcopals.

Wednesday, 30.—Senator Cowan, in the United States Senate, asks, "If a gipsy child, born in Pennsylvania, is a citizen of that State?" The opinion was, that it was a citizen of a State of variegated.

Thursday, 31.—Stephens, the Fenian Tecon, holds forth at National Hall on the oppressed state of the Irish, particularly the Fenian part or them in this country, chiefly on account of the inability of Mr. Stephens to find out where the money has got to.

Friday, 1.—The Fenians, of the Sweeney wing, have discovered their forte, near Lake Erie, called Fort Erie, and have sent a Photographer from Buffalo to take it.

Saturday, 2.—Series Column Day.—The Editor, seeing the ease with which Head Centre Stephens answers the most difficult questions, announces to his readers that he now appears before them in "a questionable shape," and solicits all kinds of questions from correspondents.

Terrible Accident at National Hall.

AWFUL EXPLOSION OF NOXIOUS GASES

The Fenian Brotherhood Crippled.

THE FEELINGS OF THE C. O. I. R. WOUNDED.

Last Thursday evening, according to contract, Mr. Stephens, late of Jones' Woods, and Chief Organizer of the Irish Republic, addressed a number of disorganizers at National Hall; many of the disorganizers were quite full. District Centre Andrew Wynne introduced the Chief Organizer as one who was bound to win. (Cries of "Joke! joke! good!" etc.)

Mr. Stephens said it was impossible for him to be disheartened. (Cries of "That's so.") The Brotherhood had been subjected to a severe ordeal. They had allowed no trust, except distrust, in their ranks; yet when he left Ireland 50,000 Irishmen were then all there ready waiting (cheers) for some money (cheers); and all movements for the liberation of Ireland had been like wild goose movements, noisy but slow. (Cheers.) No matter what the dispute here, no man can stand up and say that we in Ireland have squandered much money—no, my friends, not much. Out of $120,000 sent to the Moffatt mansion, $518.60 has been sent from there to Ireland, and they are anxiously waiting for the balance. (Cheers.) Ireland has now an army ready for the field of material that could not be surprised; of the rags used for binding up wounds they always have an abundance with them. (Cheers.) He knew the constitution of the armies of Europe, and the constitution of Irishmen was as good as any of them.

"What are the Wild Waves Saying?"

We see that the proprietors of watering places are beginning to advertise. One of them gets poetic, and speaks in his advertisement of "the Hymn sung by Old Ocean," etc. This leads us to ask the question:—Does the aforesaid Hymn belong to the old Psalmist?

A Bad Case.

The barque Peruvian has brought thirty-eight cases of cholera into New York harbor. Only another evidence that Peruvian Barks are good for the cholera.

C. O. I. R.

We are continually asked what this means. We have understood it to mean, from prominent Fenians, "Cash, or Irish Recognition."

Patent Love Letters.

Dear Miss—After long consideration and much meditation upon the great reputation you possess in the nation, I have a strange inclination to become your relation. If this obligation is worthy of observation, and can obtain consideration, it will be an aggrandizement beyond all calculation of the joy and exultation of Peter H. Portation.

P. S.—I solicit the acceptance of the love and approbation, and propose the annexation of the lives and destination of Peter H. Portation and Marie Moderation.

THE ANSWER.

DEAR PETER—I have perused your oration with great deliberation and a little consideration at the great information of your weak imagination to show such veneration on so slight a foundation. After mature deliberation and serious contemplation, I fear your proclamation is filled with adulation, or sayings from ostentation to display your education by an odd enumeration, or rather multiplication, of words of like termination, though different in signification. But as I admire association, and am in favor of annexation, I acknowledge my approbation, and indeed my inclination, to accept with gratification the love and adoration set forth in your declaration, and will, with preparation, love, and admiration, remain with resignation, and rejoice in the annihilation of Mrs. Peter H. Portation.

P. S.—I suggest the information that we meet in consultation, and make some preparation for the final consummation of the intended annexation, when I will bear the same relation to your home and occupy in that Mrs. Peter H. Portation would then bear to myself.

THE SPLIT IN THE FENIAN RANKS.

A Voice.—"What is your opinion of James Stephens?"

Mr. Stephens.—"Yes. There are men that consider themselves at liberty to insult me, and I regard it not. I refer everybody to Ireland. Mr. O'Mahony has done well in resigning. I say that when this dispute arose it should have been submitted to us in Ireland. Men this side pretend they did send a party. In the first place, the split had already been made. In the second place, he didn't come. In the third place, we didn't see him if he did; and in the fourth place, he was of no use. If this messenger had come with proper credentials, and had some funds, I might have seen him."

Another gentleman proposed a question, preface with the remark:—"I merely ask this question that you may vindicate yourself. Are you, James Stephens, a friend?"

"Yes—No. Any man that insults me insults the Irish Republic. Here the confusion became great, some moving the previous question—others crying, 'Turn him out.'"

Mr. Hanson, an ex-Centre, now moved the previous question, but the Committee on the platform immediately moved the ex-Centre Mr. Hanson completely off of it, stopping all further movements on the part of the disorganizers.
